

Main interest : How should we learn about Africa
Code	Explanation of the code	Sub categories	Categories
A very specific approach to knowledge : Sociologie	by developing sociol-scientist methods and tools we are able to produce knowledge on Africa.	Negation of existence of realities Constructivism Invention of Africa	Africa as discursive category
Realistic and objectivism approach	To analyse Africa there are some indicators specific to the continent which make African realities different from others.	Observation of indicators (Location: countries, citizenship, time,language, culture)	Africa as material facts
Inter-relational approach	Connection between African actors and European actors allow to compare and collect knowledge on africa depending on the understanding and the perception of each others.	Partnership experiences ( multiplication of exchange and relation between actors from the same field, activist, reasearch, musicians)	Africa as inter-subjectivity practice